A burlesque donkey, a rube, a country girl and a set of triple horizontal bars. It reminds one of a circus. What does it all mean? Just this—they are the visible parts of the act performed by Leo and Chapman at the Pavilion, the best act that ever looked across the footlights of this popular vaudeville theatre. The act consists of a number of difficult stunts on the bars by a party who looks like a rube. His sayings are very funny and his tricks never fail to get a round of applause. A burlesque trick donkey is introduced and proceeds under the guidance of a country girl to do some very laughable stunts, making altogether an act that is sure to reflect credit on the reputation of the Pavilion. Mondane Phillips also made a hit. This young lady has a decided novelty in the little white fuzzy dog that stands on its hind legs and sings the chorus with her. At each performance she was compelled to do an encore. The pictures were good and helped to make a decidedly interesting program.

At The Pavilion

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

Listen, theatregoer! We have landed some vaudeville for the first half of this week. Look this program over.

Leo & Chapman

Say, neighbor, this is certainly some act. Just think of this: they use a set of triple horizontal bars, a burlesque mule, Mr. Leo does a rube part, Miss Chapman does a rube song and dance, they do some great stunts on the bars. Can't you see where this combination can produce the winning brand of goods? If you can't, then believe us, THEY ARE GREAT. DON'T LET JOE STAND BETWEEN YOU AND THIS ACT. IF YOU DO, YOU ARE THE LOSER. ACTS OF THIS KIND ARE SCARCE. DON'T MISS IT.

Mondane Phillips

The girl with many voices. This girl has the ONLY SINGING DOG IN THE WORLD. A cute, fuzzy, snow-white little thing that stands on its hind legs and sings the chorus with her. Some novelty, ain't it? YOU HAD BETTER COME EARLY, OR YOU MAY NOT BE ABLE TO FIND A SEAT.
